Setup of the calendar in Outlook.

Outlook by itself is not able to work with a CalDav Calendar, but somebody has created a nice plugin: Outlook CalDav Synchronizer (<http://caldavsynchronizer.org/>)

And even better it is free and open source.

You can download it from here: <https://sourceforge.net/projects/outlookcaldavsynchronizer/>

The screenshot shows the SourceForge project page for Outlook CalDav Synchronizer. The URL in the address bar is <https://sourceforge.net/projects/outlookcaldavsynchronizer/>. The page features the SourceForge logo, a search bar, and navigation links like 'Browse', 'Enterprise', 'Blog', and 'Articles'. Below the navigation bar is a banner for PS4 and FIFA 18. The main content area displays the project name 'Outlook CalDav Synchronizer' with a subtitle 'Sync Outlook with Google, SOGo or any other CalDAV / CardDAV server'. It also shows the project's rating (4.9 Stars), download count (7,277 Downloads), and last update (22 hours ago). A green 'Download' button is prominently displayed, with a purple arrow pointing to it. Below the download button is a 'Browse All Files' link.

Download
OutlookCalDavSynchronizer-2.24.0.zip

Browse All Files

Tweet G+ Vind ik leuk

Download only the zip file, do not press any other button on the SourceForge page.

First close Outlook.

Once downloaded, start the installer:

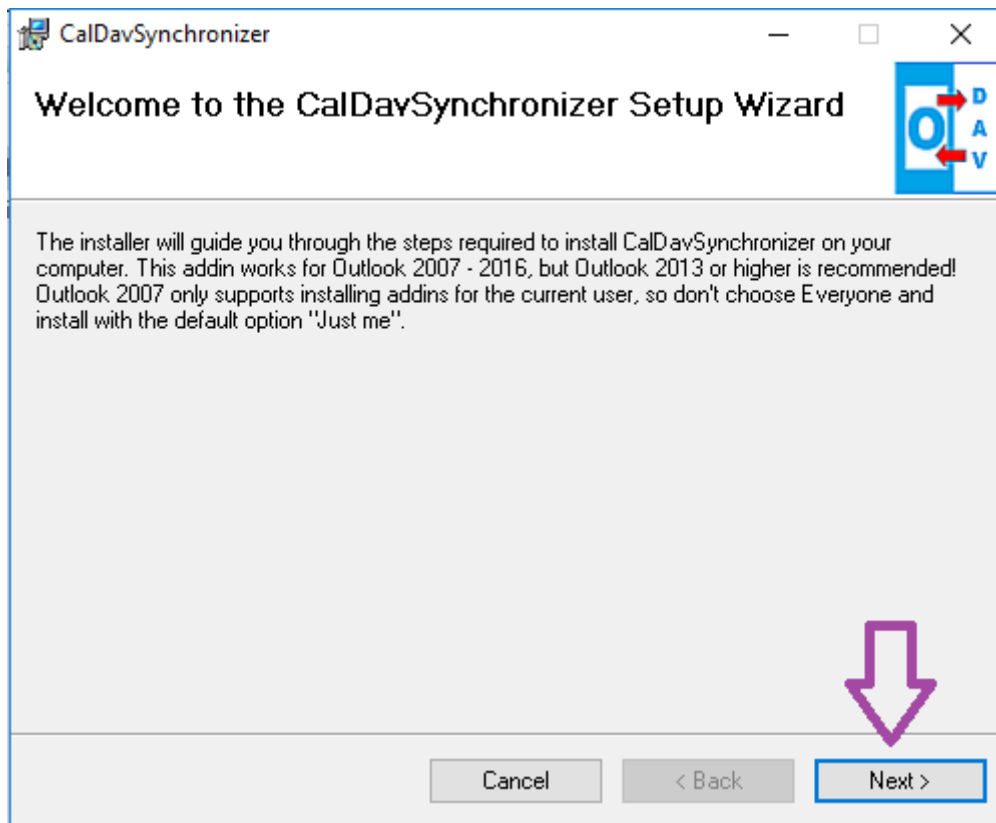

The screenshot shows a Windows File Explorer window with the address bar displaying 'This PC > Downloads > OutlookCalDavSynchronizer-2.24.0.zip'. The window has tabs for 'Show system files', 'Show extensions', 'Console', 'Copy Names', 'Copy Paths', and 'New Folder'. The main area shows a list of files with columns for Name, Type, Compressed size, and Pass. Two files are listed: 'CalDavSynchronizer.Setup.msi' (Windows Installer Package, 3.358 KB, No) and 'setup.exe' (Application, 263 KB, No). A purple arrow points to the 'setup.exe' file.

This PC > Downloads > OutlookCalDavSynchronizer-2.24.0.zip

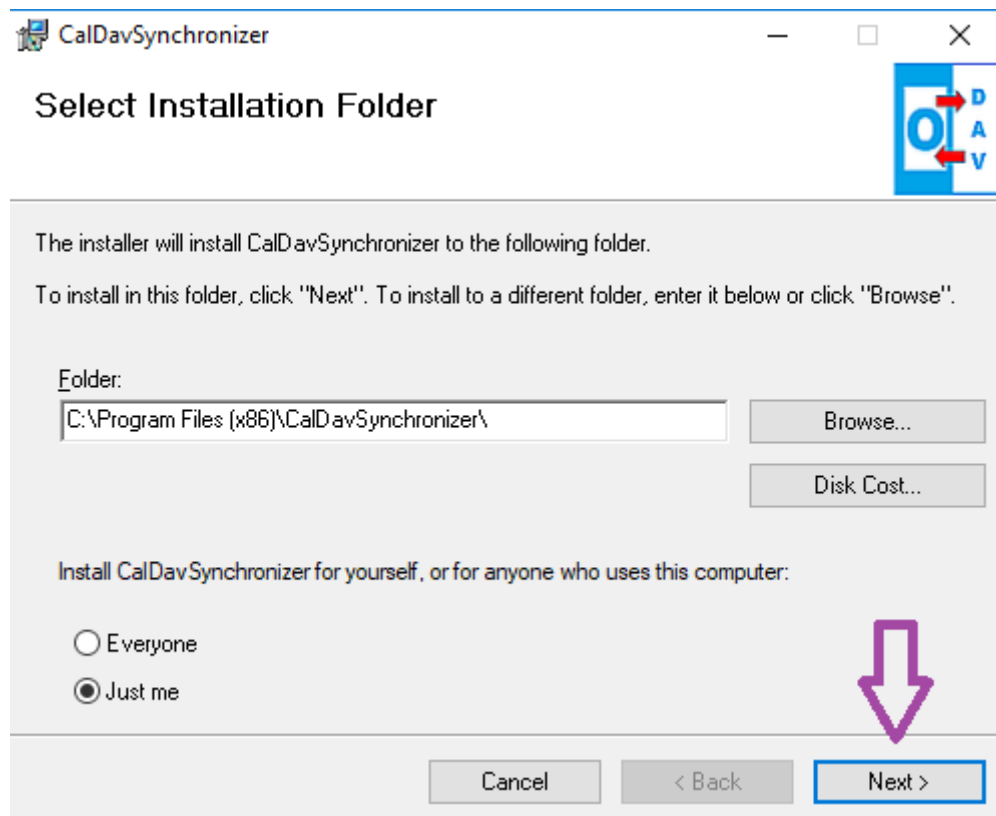

Show system files Show extensions Console Copy Names Copy Paths New Folder

Name	Type	Compressed size	Pass
CalDavSynchronizer.Setup.msi	Windows Installer Package	3.358 KB	No
setup.exe	Application	263 KB	No

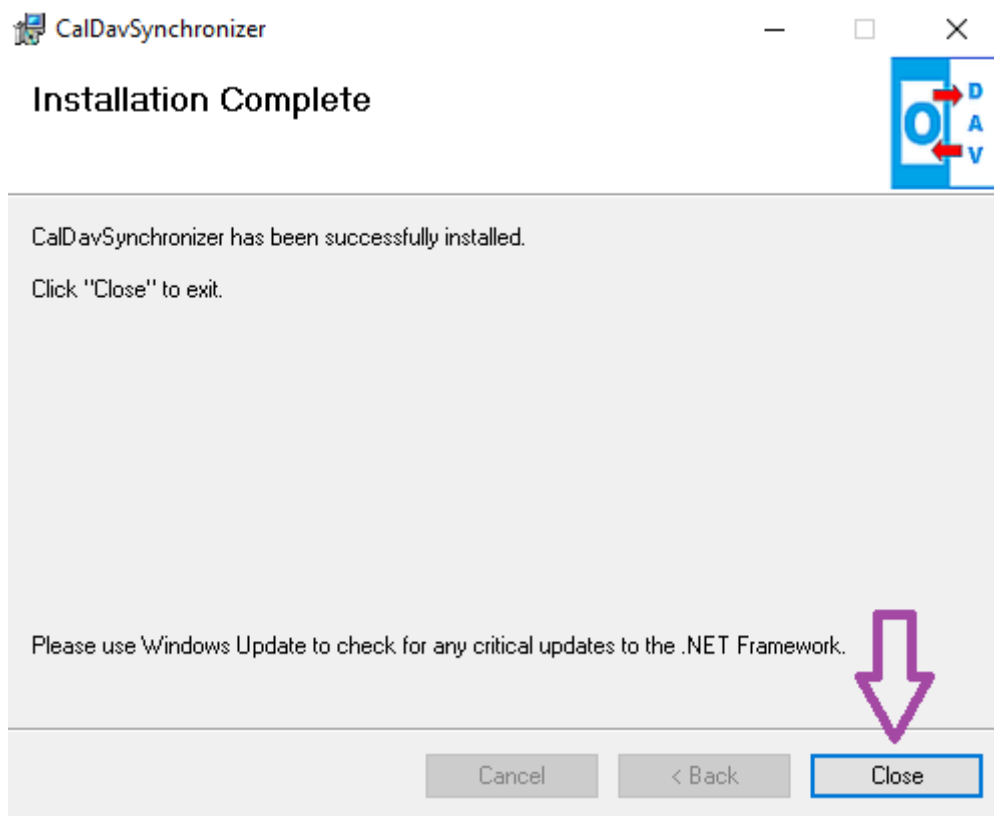

Press next to install:

Use the suggested location or use your own location:

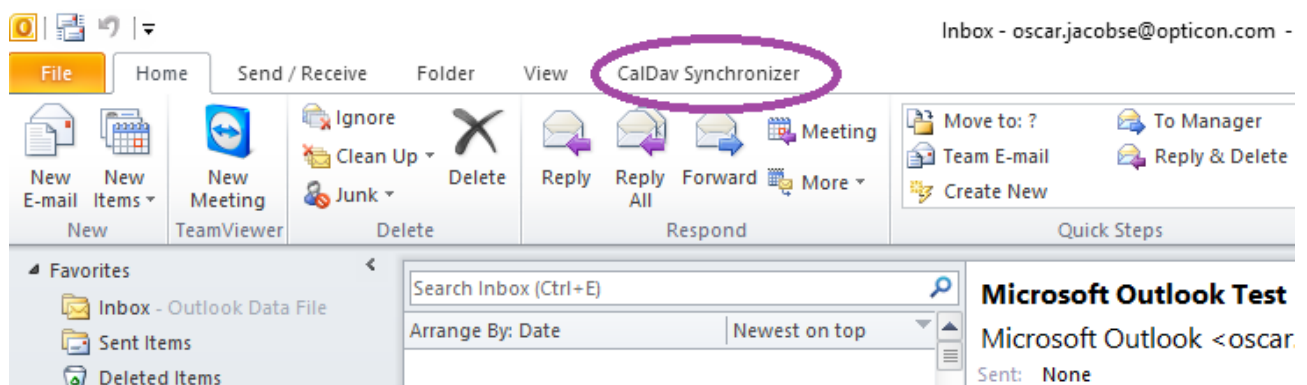

Cal Dav Synchronizer is installed now, press next

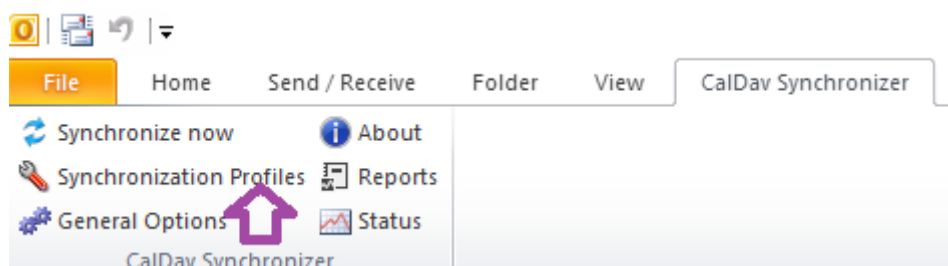

Start Outlook again

We have now an extra menu item (the CalDav Synchronizer)

First we have to create a new profile:

First Login to the webmail and find your Calendar details
See the Thunderbird section in the document for more pictures on how to go to your agenda.

Press the Pencil:

Now we can “sync” the agenda for the first time:

And there is the Agenda:
The same as in the webmail (Horde).

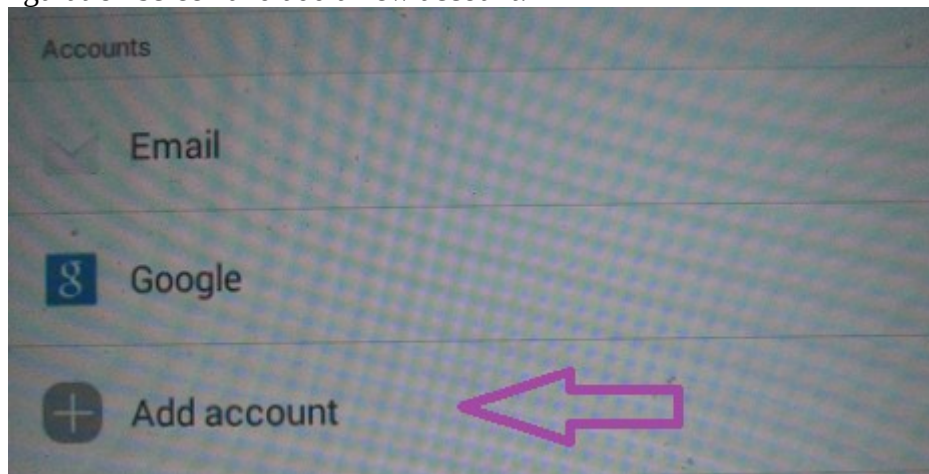

Agenda on the Android Phone/Tablet:

Android needs an extra program to use the CalDav agenda.
This tool is aCalDAV:

Download it from the Google Playstore (it is for free).
After installation we can do the setup.
Go to the configuration screen and add a new account:

Add a new aCalDAV account:

Now look in Horde for the correct URL of your calenders:
